Tenants object to late fee plan

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

Residents of the Lee Wright and Viola Jones homes in Venice decided Thursday to prepare a counterproposal to the Madison County Housing Authority's proposal to charge a $20 fee for late rent payments.

Rich Tutka of the housing authority told a hostile crowd of approximately 40 residents at the Lee Wright community center that the proposal was made due to pressure from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for the housing authority to be more vigilant in rent collection.

According to Tutka, rent has always been the first of the month and considered overdue the 10th of the month.

No late fee is charged. Under the proposal, the overdue date would change to the fifth working day of the month and a late charge would be assessed for payments after that.

Angry residents told Tutka it is unfair to expect residents on fixed incomes to pay their rent before they receive their monthly checks.

Many of those checks, they said, arrive on either the 15th or 26th day of the month and that this is the date the rent should come due.

"You all know from our contracts when we get paid," said Viola Lewis, tenant representative for the Viola Jones apartments. "Rent should be due on that date."

Tutka said the authority realizes that many of the residents are on fixed income and do not receive checks until after the overdue date. He said the authority also realizes that it would be impossible to have the residents come up with an extra month's rent in order to pay in advance.

As a result, Tutka said, the authority will not implement the plan. (See FEE, Page 14A)

Cost of business: Alleged dealers indicted

Venice gets police dog

By Bob Slate

The Venice Police Department is getting a new officer. The new officer has a unique deal with the city. The department will house him, feed him, and even bathe him. In return, the officer will assist other officers in sniffing out crime.

The new officer is a dog. Chief James Bennett said the department has acquired the animal to assist its current officers in law enforcement.

"It'll be a dual-purpose animal. It's a sniffer, so it will be able to help us find drugs and to track people," Bennett said.

The German shepherd is being obtained from the Advanced K-9 Academy in Bowling Green, Ky.

Two Eagle Park men whom residents call "big ones" were indicted on federal drug charges Thursday following an investigation involving state and federal authorities.

Terrance Williams, 26, and Glenn Erwin Cooper, 31, were each indicted on one count of conspiracy to distribute crack cocaine and two counts each of distribution of crack cocaine.

Both are in custody and will be arraigned Monday at the East St. Louis federal court. Assistant U.S. Attorney Ranley Killian, who is handling the case, called Eagle Park a "small but notorious corner" of Madison County.

During the investigation, he said, the pair are alleged to have made two major crack sales — one of just under 30 grams and one of just over 30 grams — to undercover agents.

Under the federal sentencing guidelines, each ounce of crack cocaine is computed as 100 grams of cocaine powder; Killian said.

If convicted, Williams and Cooper face a minimum mandatory 10-year prison sentence and a maximum of life imprisonment without parole. In addition, Killian said, each faces fines ranging up to $5 million.

"I think it's a couple of our biggies, didn't they," said Ed Lee Salmond. "Those guys thought nobody could touch them. You

3 BAC trustees face inquiry over meeting

By Jim Haverstick
Staff writer

The Madison County State's Attorney's office is investigating a possible violation of the Open Meetings Act by Belleville Area College's Policy Committee.

Collinsville businessman Bob DesPain complained to the state's attorney's office that three BAC trustees on the committee left in the middle of June 3 meeting at the Granite City campus to hold a private conversation in the school library.

Assistant State's Attorney Lewis Mallot will collect affidavits from the committee members to see if there was a violation of the law. The trustees being questioned are board chairman Bob Maxwell of Granite City, Thomas Pratt of Dupont and committee chairman Mark Levy of Collinsville.

"I am offended greatly that he (DesPain) would make an accusation like that," Maxwell said. "Especially when he knows it just is not true."

Maxwell said he and Pratt both had to return to their jobs before the meeting concluded.

Levy said he excused himself from the meeting briefly to wish Maxwell a bon voyage for his vacation on the Orient Express.

"There was no committee business discussed," Levy said. "DesPain followed me into the hall. The whole thing lasted about a minute."

"Pratt could not be reached for comment."

If the conversation was about committee business it would be a violation of the Illinois Open Meetings Act to hold the conversation in private.

The act states "A public body may hold a meeting closed to the public, upon a majority vote of a quorum present taken at a meeting open to the public." A public body can hold a closed session only to discuss acquisition of real estate, litigation and personnel matters such as collective bargaining, appointment to a position, employment or dismissal of an officer, complaint against an officer or appointment to a vacancy on the public board.

No vote was taken by the committee to close the meeting for executive session.

DesPain attended the meeting to see if the college would waive its fee for meeting transcripts.

DesPain wants to review the minutes of the Truth in Taxation meeting held last August because he believes the meeting may not have been conducted following state guidelines.

McPike: Edgar about to give in on budget

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

State legislators are about to have their way with Gov. Jim Edgar's proposed budget, a key state official says.

"I think (Edgar) is just about to give in," House Majority Leader Jim McPike, D-Alton, said Friday of current budget negotiations.

Edgar's proposed budget calls for a complete halt to reimbursement of tax increment financing (TIF) funds — $27 million — to TIF districts, and elimination of municipalities' share of the state income tax surcharge, another $28 million.

Granite City stands to lose about $95,000 in TIF funds and more than $1 million from the surcharge under the proposal.

Democratic leaders have criticized the Republican governor's budget, saying it leaves municipalities with no choice but to increase property taxes.

"Our position hasn't changed," McPike said. "We're trying to stop the governor from taking $238 million away from cities and counties."

Then we'll go about trying to fund the program.

Although he was never a strong proponent of tax increment financing, McPike said it was one of the programs he and other key legislators are trying to get reinstated.

"TIF has been badly abused all over the state," McPike said.

Highland Park, for example, one of the richest cities in the state, got $2 million in the first year of the program. There had to be reforms.

Last year, in a last-minute budget compromise, the TIF appropriation was reduced to 75 percent of full allocation, and cities were given half of their share of the income tax surcharge.

Subway proposed for downtown

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Donald Stewart, owner of Subway Sandwich Shop in the Central Square shopping center off Fehling Road, has expressed interest in opening a second restaurant, in the downtown area.

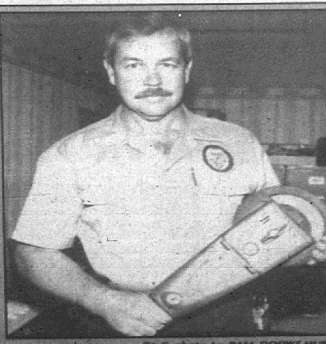

Stewart has asked the city for assistance in acquiring 2216 Madison Ave., formerly the site of Dupli-Print printers.

Charlie Palus, real estate broker for Granite City Realty who is handling the transaction, said Stewart is asking the city to demolish and remove the existing building so that he can erect a 1,300-square-foot building similar to the existing Subway shop. Stewart would like to begin construction by the end of July, Palus said.

The existing Subway has eight employees and does more than $300,000 per year in sales, according to Stewart's proposal. The proposed new location would employ at least that many persons, and is expected to do at least as well in "new" sales.

The city's level of involvement is uncertain, as yet, as details of the financial assistance requested have not yet been conveyed to the city, Alderman Jim Miller, chairman of the City Council's Downtown Committee, said.

The city is seeking bids for the demolition.

City parking meters go on sale Monday

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

Granite City residents can purchase a piece of history beginning Monday when the Police Department puts its parking meters on sale.

Meters no longer are used to regulate parking of vehicles in the city.

"Why would someone want to own a parking meter?" "I guess it's sort of a conversation piece," said Capt. Dave Ruebhausen of the Granite City Police Department.

"Or, if someone has paid forty-five hundred or so parking tickets in their life, they may want to buy one just so they can smash it with a hammer."

To purchase a meter, persons should go to the Granite City Treasurer's Office in City Hall, Niedringhaus and Edison avenues, and pay $5 for each meter desired.

The Treasurer's Office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Persons will be given a receipt that is redeemable at the police station 24 hours a day. There, they will be allowed to select a meter from those available.

"All of them will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis," Ruebhausen said. "If someone wants to plunk down $100 or $200, they can probably buy them all."

Ruebhausen stressed that all of the meters are sold without poles, without keys and "as-is — some of them work and some of them don't."

So said the sale will last until all of the meters are gone.

Budget battle may continue

SPRINGFIELD — House Speaker Michael Madigan has rejected Gov. Jim Edgar's compromise stance on the budget, and the deadlock may have to be resolved in an overtime legislative session for the second year in a row.

"Instead of cutting spending (Edgar) wants to start new borrowing," said Madigan, who controls the 72-46 Democratic edge in the House.

Madigan announced Wednesday that he opposes a compromise endorsed by Edgar that would take away $80 million in income tax surcharge money for local governments and use bonds to fund the $155 million they will get.

"The funds taken away from local government would go to restore bureaucrats in state government," Madigan charged. Edgar threatened to keep lawmakers in session after the scheduled close Tuesday, the end of the fiscal year, if the Legislature sends him a budget with unmanageable cuts.

"I hoped with my willingness to compromise they would meet me half way. I've made my attempt to resolve this and it's now in their court," Edgar said. "It's difficult to negotiate if one side refuses to budge and it appears to me the speaker isn't going to budge."

Madigan also rejected Edgar's call to restore $373 million in cuts approved by the House last week. Madigan ridiculed the governor's proposal to cut only $38 million from his own budget plan.

The two chief Democratic budget negotiators, Majority Leader Jim McPike of Alton and Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman Howard Carroll of Chicago, will start a new round of spending reductions instead, Madigan declared.

However, the speaker acknowledged that Senate President Philip Rock had told him the majority Democrats in that chamber wanted at least $100 million of the House cuts restored.

Last year the Legislature went into a record 18 days of overtime wrangling over budget disputes, but the roles were reversed. Last year the governor insisted on deeper cuts than Madigan or Rock supported.

Edgar noted that the $155 million borrowing plan had first been proposed by a Democrat, Sen. Richard Luft of Pekin.

Luft suggested the money be used to give local governments the same surcharge amount they received in the fiscal year that ends Tuesday.

Under a budget agreement last year, the local communities' cut of the surcharge revenue was to be boosted to 75 percent, or about $237 million, up from the $155 million share this year after an even split with state government.

Salvation Army plans emergency fund drive

Mike Myers
Staff writer

A rock-athon, a phone-athon and Christmas kettles will be featured in the Granite City Salvation Army's emergency fund drive this week.

At 7 a.m. Wednesday, volunteers will begin rocking in rocking chairs at the Domino's Pizza, Pontoon and Maryville roads, and the chairs will continue to rock day and night for the next 30 hours in a rock-athon.

"Our purpose is to collect 15,000 or more canned goods," said John Smith, one of the volunteers. "We will have a drive-through so people can just pull in and drop off canned food 24 hours a day."

The rock-athon will end at midnight July 4. KLOU radio will broadcast "live" from Domino's throughout the rock-athon.

"Rock with us and let's rock poverty out of this country," Smith said.

The phone-athon will take place from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, July 4. During that time, people will be encouraged to make a donation using cash, check or money-order by calling (618) 451-7957.

"This is something that's never been tried before," Smith said. "When a person calls, we will dispatch a volunteer driver and, within a matter of minutes, the volunteer will be at the donor's house, where the donation will be collected and the donor given a receipt."

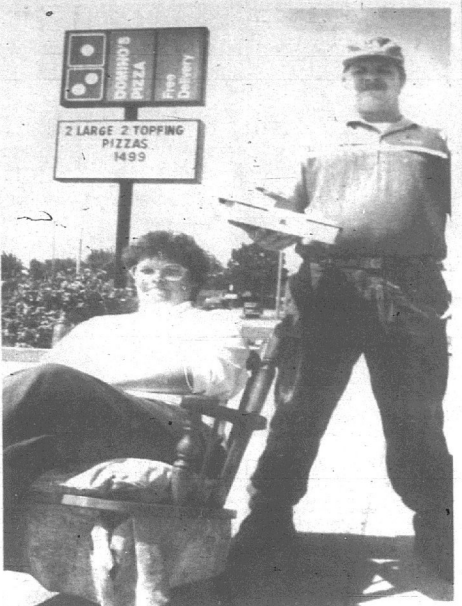

Also for the first time, Smith said, the Salvation Army will have its Christmas donation kettles and bell ringers out at stores throughout the area for "Christmas in July" from July 1 through July 4. Food canisters will also be placed at many local banks and the Salvation Army will have a booth at the Wilson Park 4th of July celebration.

"We sincerely urge that, when you pass a kettle or food canister, you will give what you can," Smith said. "Remember, what you share will be the answer to the prayer of someone in need."

According to Capt. Curtiss Hartley, Granite City commander of the Salvation Army, the emergency fund drive is needed to replace $5,000 in funds the Salvation Army will not be receiving from the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

Hartley said the funds were withheld, but Dennis Orsey, a member of the United Way board, said the United Way had refused to accept funds from the United Way after the board, in March, cut the original $55,000 allotment to $22,500.

Orsey said the decision to cut the funding was made after the Salvation Army could not verify that the funds were being spent on direct financial assistance. According to Orsey, the current campaign is in violation of United Way rules governing fund-raising by its members.

Delay predicted in Pontoon road work

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

Widening of Pontoon Road to provide a third lane might take road crews until July of next year to complete the project.

News of the delay was greeted with consternation at Tuesday night's meeting of the Pontoon Beach Village Board.

"It's really starting to affect our businesses," said village trustee Marvin Ribbing. "The longer people stay away from the businesses, the longer it'll take to get those customers back."

It's not only affecting the businesses along Pontoon Road in Pontoon Beach, but motorists also must cope with a narrower passage and a soft road shoulder during the work.

Originally, the project was slated to be finished in September of this year, but Ribbing said that target date is sure to be missed.

"The curb cuts they have made are at disastrous angles," said Ribbing.

Another complaint noted by the village board was that there is a lack of workers at the construction site. Ribbing said he only saw three workers on Tuesday.

"The weather might have been a bit of a factor," said Ribbing, in reference to Tuesday's torrential rains. "But they could have had up to 50 people out there. From what I've heard, the supervisor doesn't want to send more."

The Pontoon Road work area is "a mess," said Mayor Glen Wilson.

Ribbing said, "Near Lake Drive, there's a sewer exposed that they tried to work on. They just set some concrete bricks in there and then threw a couple of shovelfuls of concrete in there. That hasn't worked at all."

The site engineer could not be reached for comment. In actions, the board decided to give its support to the House-shoe Lake Resource Planning Committee (HLRPC) and enter a chapter in Pontoon Beach.

The village received a letter from Ken Davis, chairman of the HLRPC, explaining the goals of the organization, made up of local citizens and governments.

"They want to establish flood control and open up the lake again," said trustee Bob Douglas, a member of the HLRPC.

"We're going to have problems there if we continue to expand and build. This group wants to help take care of the lake."

The only immediate step the village was asked to take was to send a letter to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) showing support for the project. IEPA funds are said to be necessary to ensure that the plan succeeds.

One proposal by the organization in regard to obtaining funding is for the IEPA to designate all or a portion of any penalties assessed against local businesses to be deposited into a fund.

County ready to refund abolished fees

Hundreds of people who paid fees to file petitions in some child or spousal support cases can get in line for a refund. Madison County court officials who collected fees from people seeking to modify, terminate or enforce orders or judgments after Jan. 1 have mailed out refund forms to law offices and have posted a public notice.

Refund applications are available in the Circuit Clerk's Office, 118 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville. "I think everything will be resolved and everyone will get their money back," said Don Smith, an attorney in the county's Safety and Risk Management Department who represented the county in a class-action lawsuit involving the fee collections. State legislators abolished the $40 fee collected by circuit clerk's offices for petitions filed within 30 days of an entered judgment or order and the $60 fee for petitions filed after 30 days.

Lawmakers' aim was to make the court system more accessible to people facing financial problems.

Madison County Circuit Clerk Willard "Butch" Portell said employees in his office continued to collect the money after the first of the year because he was unaware the law had been changed.

"All I know is the law changed without our knowledge or notification," he said.

The fee was charged to a variety of people, including divorced fathers who wanted to change visitation rights and women looking to enforce child-support payments.

Smith said hundreds of people may be due refunds, but he could not say exactly how much money was incorrectly collected.

Alton attorney Richard Shaikewitz filed the lawsuit challenging the county in April on behalf of a female client and others who paid the fees.

Although county court officials have changed their position, the lawsuit is still in the system. A hearing on a motion to dismiss the suit, which seeks damages of $60 plus interest for each of the plaintiffs and an order barring further collections, is scheduled Friday.

The lawsuit may be dropped if county officials are taking the right steps to reimburse people, said Andy Velloff, an attorney from Shaikewitz's office. Until then, "I'm going to continue pursuing this," he said.

Smith estimated that about 90 percent of the fees collected from hundreds of people after Jan. 1 were paid for through law firms and not by individuals filing their own petitions.

The suit, he added, should be dismissed since the county is refunding the fees.

"I don't think it will be that difficult to determine who is eligible for a refund," Smith said. — From the Alton Telegraph

Crisis center gets $267,438 grant

By Chris Knight
Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD — The Women's Crisis Center in Belleville has been granted $267,438 to treat domestic violence victims next year.

Of 48 community organizations given $8.2 million in Department of Public Aid grants, only three Chicago centers received grants larger than Belleville's.

"I think we were very fortunate as far as the fact that we weren't cut this year," said Jane Lee, executive director of the Women's Crisis Center.

Lee said she won't get any money until legislators draft a state budget that Gov. Jim Edgar approves for fiscal 1993, which begins July 1. Legislators are considering several hundred million dollars in cuts because the sluggish economy brought in fewer taxes this year.

Public Aid Director Phil Bradley said this week that funding the grants is critical to help battered women rebuild their lives.

"We rely on the expertise and commitment of agencies offering safety and support to women in crises," he said. "All of these agencies have been on the front lines dealing with domestic violence for years and have demonstrated an ability to provide vital services to families in crisis."

The Women's Crisis Center has offices in Belleville and East St. Louis that provide temporary shelter, counseling, health care, community education and help in filing orders of protection. "We provide more services than we get money for," Lee said.

Lee said the state provides the centers with such a large grant because they do good work and cover a large area. The centers serve St. Clair, southern Madison, Monroe and Randolph counties.

A six-member panel of people from state agencies, higher education and provider groups reviewed proposals from 55 organizations. The panel made its recommendations to Bradley, who gave the grants final approval.

This wonderful Broadway smash hit is "a farce about farce," taking the clichés of the genre and shaking them inventively through a series of kaleidoscopic patterns. The play opens with a touring company dressed rehearsing "Nothing On," a conventional farce. Missing mockery and homage, the playwright heaps into this play-within-a-play a hilarious melee of stock characters and situations. Cheery chaos erupts as wife and scowling blonde stampede in and out of the doors. Voices rise and trousers fall "...a farce that makes you think as well as laugh." London Times Literary Supplement.

Illinois Power ready for summer power needs

If an unusually cool spring means an uncomfortably hot summer, then the next few months should bring higher electricity use and monthly power bills in central Illinois.

Illinois Power is ready to meet the summer electrical demand, which can exceed 3.5 million kilowatts on the hottest afternoons, a spokesman said.

The company's six generating stations were up and running at nearly full capacity June 23. In 1991, the stations had a system-wide equivalent availability rating of 79.7 percent, about the national average and up 13 percent from the previous year.

Equivalent availability is a standard industry measure of power plant performance. The four-month summer billing period, determined by the Illinois Commerce Commission, began with meter readings taken after June 15. The average cost of electricity and other bill charges during those months is 10.94 cents per kilowatt hour, compared with 10.61 cents in winter.

The typical Illinois Power residential customer uses 1,090 kilowatt hours per month in summer and receives an average electric bill of $119.26.

Last winter, the average monthly electric bill was $65.70, based on an average use of 619 kilowatt hours.

While electricity continues to be plentiful, energy conservation will be the catch phrase for homeowners who want to keep summer power bills from rising as fast as the mercury, the spokesman said.

To help, Illinois Power offers advice on trimming power costs this summer:

The attack on high energy use begins at the thermostat. Since air conditioning accounts for about 60 percent of summer energy costs, lessening the demand on cooling equipment usually pays the biggest dividends.

For the greatest savings, Illinois Power recommends setting household thermostats for 78 degrees or as high as comfortable. People who set them higher while away from home can cut cooling costs by 15 percent or more.

Also, service and maintenance of air-conditioning units and filters keep them at peak efficiency.

Simple cleaning works wonders. A dirty air conditioner runs 10 to 27 percent less efficiently than a cleaned and properly lubricated one.

River study project honored

The Illinois Rivers Project, a research study sponsored by the School of Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is a national winner in the U.S. Department of Interior Take Pride in America awards program.

The announcement was made Monday in Washington, D.C., by Secretary of the Interior Manuel Lujan, and a formal presentation of the award is scheduled at a July 21 ceremony at Constitution Hall in Washington.

Directed by Robert Williams, professor of curriculum and instruction in the SIUE School of Education, the research program, funded by a $1 million grant from the National Science Foundation, is developing an interdisciplinary curriculum on river study for high school students.

The project was named a state winner in February, making it eligible for the national awards program.

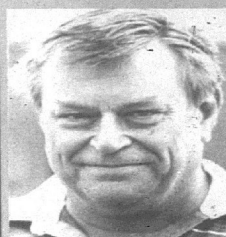

The Take Pride in America program recognizes individuals and public and private organizations which have contributed to the wise use of America's resources.

Winners were selected in 10 categories by a blue ribbon panel of judges headed by Secretary Lujan. The SIUE project was entered in the educational institution category.

Through the research project, science teachers from participating schools and their students gather samples and conduct quality tests on water from rivers.

The VOICE BOX: Are you in favor of NASA efforts to build a space station? To go to Mars?

By Pam Doepke-Hurd

Don Offit, Granite City
"Yes, the throw-off benefits of the space program are worth it. It promotes new technology. I don't think going to Mars would be worth it."

Dale O'Bear, Granite City
"Yes. If we don't, nobody else will. If we pay all the taxes we do, we might as well do something with it. It could be beneficial. I just don't know."

Marilyn Price, Granite City
"Yes, the government is spending money for lots of other developments; they might as well develop that area too. Yes, it's a possibility, but it won't be in my lifetime but maybe in my grandchildren's lifetime."

Kathleen Offit, Granite City
"Sure. I think with the environment the way it is, future generations need to look for alternative living spaces."

Career planning program set

How Fishing Schooner lures a bigger pool of customers.

"No question, the yellow pages is the most effective part of our advertising," Harry Brandt, owner of Fishing Schooner Pet Centers.

tant to Fishing Schooner. At first, Harry Brandt tried to draw his customers from the local neighborhood. But given his somewhat unusual offerings, he clearly needed to attract business from a much broader area.

Happily, as soon as Fishing Schooner began advertising in the yellow pages, people responded from all over town. Which is no surprise, because when they're ready to buy, more people turn to the yellow pages for information.

And as Harry Brandt points out, "Our yellow pages ad is in front of our prospective customers every single day of the year."

In fact, research proves that yellow pages ads pull better than any other medium (see the chart below).

So whether your business is fish or foul weather gear—or any other—the yellow pages can help you land the customers you need.

And DonTech, publishers of the Ameritech PagesPlus directory, can help you determine the ad you need. Just talk to your DonTech representative.

You simply can't make a better investment than a yellow pages ad, assuming you're hooked on success.

It all began as a hobby. A few dozen angel fish, comfortable enough in tanks tucked away in a corner of a basement.

Today Fishing Schooner Pet Centers is quite a thriving business, selling not only tropical fish but odd birds and rare reptiles as well. It has two stores, 15 employees, and annual sales of over $1 million.

What kind of exotic advertising has made this exotic pet shop so successful? Well, take a look. The answer is a hard-working yellow pages ad, pictured right here.

The actual ad has proved vitally important to Fishing Schooner.

The yellow pages pulls in almost twice as many ready-to-buy prospects as the #2 medium:

Source: Institute of Business and Education Services, Miami University

Advertising is a proven sales tool that returns your original investment many times over. One of the most effective kinds of advertising you can choose is the yellow pages. The yellow pages is always working, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. It's distributed to every home, every business with a telephone. Who uses it? An impressive 90% of all adults. Keep in mind, too, that people rarely browse through the yellow pages. They turn to it when they're ready to buy; studies show that 87.7% of yellow pages users either bought or were going to buy. In short, a yellow pages ad means business.

Business booms when you do it by the book.

Home award nominations are sought

The Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce is again looking for a few good homes.

Each month through October the chamber's Community Pride Committee and the Granite City Press-Record will recognize homeowners in the area who take pride in keeping their homes looking in tip top shape.

The deadline for July awards is 5 p.m. June 30 at the chamber office, 1831 Delmar. Homes are selected on the basis of nomination by members of the community based on the theory that neighbors know best who is the hardest Jones to keep up with.

Nominations are open to any residence (including houses, apartments, and any other dwelling) in the Quad City area including Namooki, Chouteau, Venice and Granite City townships.

The award program was launched in conjunction with the chamber's annual "Stash Trash" community clean-up program.

Special emphasis will be placed on those properties that have become models for the rest of the neighborhood. Included will be owners who have remodeled, planted floral gardens, cleaned up or otherwise demonstrated significant pride in the exterior display of their homes.

To nominate someone for the award send the person's name, address, telephone number and a brief explanation of how the Marilyn McKechan, chairwoman of the Home Pride Award selection committee, previous award winner Dave Knollman, owner of Parkside Manor Apartments, and RC Bush, Chamber of Commerce executive director, show a sign that is displayed in the yards of Home-Pride Award winners. The signs were purchased through a donation from the Chain of Rocks Recycling and Disposal facility.

home shows community pride. Nominations should be mailed or delivered to Community Pride Committee, Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, 1831 Delmar, Granite City, IL 62040. For more information call the chamber at 876-6400.

Award signs will be placed in winning yards and photos of the homes will be published in the Granite City Press-Record.

Rubberized asphalt: Too expensive for highways?

Putting a little bounce in Illinois roads just might roll back the number of miles resurfaced each year.

State officials are concerned that federal legislation requiring the use of asphalt containing recycled tires would add to the cost of resurfacing roads.

"If they want full-blown use of rubber asphalt it would reduce the amount of miles we are able to do every year. It is more expensive because processing the waste rubber is expensive," said Jim Gehler, chief engineer for the Illinois Department of Transportation's Material and Physical Research Department.

A federal law requires states to begin including ground or melted rubber from scrap tires in asphalt or lose up to 30 percent of their federal highway dollars by 1996. The law calls for 5 percent rubber asphalt in all federally funded road projects in 1994.

Gehler added the state has no objection to using the rubber asphalt if it meets standards, does not increase cost and is environmentally sound.

Proponents of the legislation said it would reduce the number of scrap tires going into landfills by 70 million a year and increase the life of the roads.

Rubber asphalt is made by adding finely ground rubber to the mixing agent or adding large pieces of rubber with the rocks and gravel.

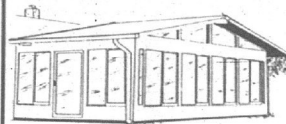

Whether adding rubber to the asphalt mixture will increase the life of roads or not is still in question, however.

"It is used to make the roads more elastic," Gehler said. "But we haven't had a lot of experience with it because it hasn't been that widely used. It would probably be more effective for the southern tier states."

But by using rubber asphalt the state won't get the biggest bounce for its buck. Costs can be 50 percent to 75 percent more per ton than normal asphalt.

Anderson planning expansion

By Martin Richter
Staff writer

Anderson Hospital in Maryville is making some financial moves to clear the way for an $11 million expansion.

The hospital has applied for approval of the expansion project to the Illinois Health Facilities Planning Board, hospital President R. Coert Shepard said.

Hospital officials expect to break ground this fall, and complete the project in just over two years.

Planned is a $6 million medical office building to be attached to the existing hospital, and a $5 million expansion of the 140-bed hospital, Shepard said.

The expansion will include a new state-of-the-art obstetrics suite that will allow mothers to undergo labor, delivery, recovery and postpartum treatment without being shuttled from room to room. It also will upgrade facilities used for diagnostic work on outpatients, Shepard said.

Shepard said the medical building will be primarily for use by private doctors, but that the hospital will use some space in the building.

"This is really to maintain the quality of services available, and to retain patients on this side of the river for medical care—a number of whom are now going to St. Louis," he said.

The project will mean "a couple hundred" construction jobs, and 20 to 30 permanent jobs when it is completed, Shepard said.

To borrow the money needed for the $11 million expansion, the hospital will have to take some financial steps to comply with federal and state laws.

Anderson still owes about $9 million on the $11 million in bonds issued in the mid-1970s to finance its construction, Shepard said. Administrators will have to retire that bond issue before borrowing money for the expansion.

Shepard said the hospital will refinance that debt and consolidate it with the money needed for the expansion.

According to federal tax law, the title to the hospital must pass to a government entity when the bonds are paid off, and then be leased back to Anderson Hospital.

Collinsville Township agreed in 1973 to take the title when the bonds are paid off.

"The hospital has arranged for the Southwestern Illinois Development Authority to take title, and lease the property and hospital back to the hospital, Shepard said.

That process is expected to happen in early August.

Anderson Hospital still will be responsible for paying off the bonds, and the deal will involve no financial responsibility for the township or SWIDA, Shepard said.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON—A nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritional complete "hi-tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Although other studies and scientists may not agree, researchers in Europe found that the ingredient, a natural plant colloid, actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to a decrease in the intestinal absorption of calories.

While the project of National Dietary Research, aptly named Food Source One, could not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the formula which has since been improved with other natural colloids has been a win-win for some overweight people. A Daytona Beach, Florida woman fighting a weight battle for 12 years used the product on the recommendation of her physician and lost 30 pounds. She stated, "Not only have I lost 30 pounds but my cholesterol has dropped from 232 to 143. I have two closets full of clothes which have not fit me in two years that I can now wear." In a separate report, a telephone interview revealed that a Wilmington, North Carolina pharmacist lost 14 pounds in 3 weeks on the product and was never hungry.

Food Source One tablets are part of National Dietary Research's comprehensive plan to bring a rapid end to obesity in this country. A variety of nutritionally sound diet plans, specially prepared by NDR, accompany each bottle and provide a natural, drug free alternative for confronting the problem of obesity.

Hospital dedication today

The medical staff and associates at St. Elizabeth Health Services will celebrate the dedication of the new Wolf Medical Building and the Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) facility with an open house today (Sunday).

The structures are located at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, 2100 Madison Ave., Granite City. The dedication ceremony will be held at 12:45 p.m. in the main lobby of the Wolf Medical Building. Tours, which will be held from 1 to 3 p.m., will start in the main lobby of the Wolf Medical Building and include Granite City's first skywalk, linking Wolf with SEMC. Information on the new MRI magnet and procedure will also be available.

"This is a chance for us to invite residents in to see our new facilities and show them that the quality of care they receive here is second to none in this area," said Jack Grieves, SEMC vice president.

"It will also give them a chance to become familiar with the new buildings so they will know where physician offices are."

Community members will tour the Wolf Medical Building, which houses offices for 20 physicians; Reese's Pharmacy; and Providence Occupational Health Clinic.

"The Providence Occupational Health Clinic is specifically designed as an accessible health-care resource for business and industry in the Metro East and greater St. Louis areas," said Deanna Desieux, marketing representative for the clinic.

"Our location in the Wolf Medical Building enables us to accommodate our growing number of clients and reflects our commitment to providing quality occupational health care."

Dedication prizes will include tickets to a St. Louis Cardinals baseball game, a three-month Wellness Center membership, cholesterol testing by the Cardiopulmonary Rehab Department, and picture frames from Reese's Pharmacy. There will also be selections for SEMC giveaways, and refreshments will be served.

"Granite City has a lot going on, and our new facilities are examples that we should take pride in our own city," Grieves said.

Club celebrates anniversary

On May 27, the Garden Study Club celebrated the 45th anniversary of the organization with a luncheon and social gathering at the Harold Brown Recreation Center.

A large cake decorated with an anniversary motif centered the main table, complemented with vases of spring and annual flowers. White carnations and favors were given to the guests.

Clara Winter and Mary Stomum welcomed the members and guests and Mary Mang offered the invocation.

Ron Kelich, a local florist, demonstrated a flower arrangement with garden and tropical plants and flowers. He is the owner of the Floral Essence Shop in Granite City.

After the luncheon, President Mary Mang reviewed a short version of the club history, noting the club was organized April 30, 1947, and the members agreed to affiliate with the District V Garden Clubs of Illinois in December 1955.

The object of the club is to stimulate knowledge and the love of gardening, to aid in protection of trees, plants and birds, and to encourage civic planting.

The club sponsors continuing projects, which include planting a tree every Arbor Day and other projects, local and statewide.

Prizes were awarded to Carolyn Stearns of Cloverview Garden Club and Beula Miller of Thorngate Garden Club.

Past President Mary Stomum presented commendation certificates from the National Council of State Garden Clubs Inc. to Mary Mang and Clara Winter for more than 20 years of service as members of the Garden Study Club.

Attending from Cloverview were Carolyn Stearns, Marge O'Neil, Gladys Gandores, Veronica Williamson and Lois Cruise.

Present from Thorngate were Beula Miller, June Lux, Enid Bolin, Helen Polley, Jean Bethel and Lillian Delpe.

Garden Study members attending included Bonnie Rutkowski, Helen Meyer, Chris Hornberger, Marie Oetken, Helen Mih, Irene Dorogahay, Shirley Stallings, Catherine Kostoff and a guest, Erin Henson.

Musical honor for Dan Vizer

Dan Vizer of Granite City was initiated into the Delta Beta Chapter of Pi Kappa Lambda National Music Honor Society on June 5 during a music convocation at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The primary objective of Pi Kappa Lambda is the recognition and encouragement of the highest level of musical achievement and academic scholarship.

The society is convinced that, by recognizing and honoring persons who have enhanced their talents by serious, diligent and intelligent study, others will be stimulated to do the same.

Vizer is organist and cantor at the Basilica of St. Louis (The Old Cathedral) in St. Louis, and organist at First Presbyterian Church in Edwardsville.

He teaches music at Holy Family School in Granite City. He also teaches piano lessons.

His teachers have included Donald and Ortranza MacDonald, Ae Ree Kim, Ruth Slenczynska and Grace Welsh, the latter of the American Conservatory in Chicago.

The Walton Foundation was formed by the late Sam Walton, founder of Wal-Mart.

Gillham family reunion held

The Snow Springs Church of God Camp Ground Assembly Hall, north of Hot Springs, Ark. was the scene of the 42nd annual Gillham reunion the weekend of June 13 and 14.

The reunion was started in 1949 after the death of Herman Gillham, killed when a farm tractor turned over on him. Herman was a descendant of Thomas Gillham, Sr., who, with his seven sons, sons-in-law and at least one grandson, were Revolutionary War patriots.

Four of Thomas' sons by his second wife, Thomas Jr., James, John and Isaac eventually migrated to and were early settlers of Madison County. They are among the patriots remembered in a marker on the wall of the County Courthouse in Edwardsville. Herb Gillham of Granite City is the "Maverick" Clan leader and genealogist for the reunion group. Accompanying Herb were his wife, Helen, and mother, Wilma.

Other members of the "Maverick" Clan in attendance at this year's reunion were Jim and Flo Gillham of Independence, Mo.; Ted and Helen Gillham of Hills, Iowa; Doris Gillham Hunt and Bill of Clarion, Iowa; and John and Pearl Gillham of Mountain Home, Ark. Others came from California, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, and Texas.

Next year's Hot Springs reunion is scheduled to be held at the same place June 12 and 13. For information, call Herb Gillham at 877-5869, or write him at 2700 Highway 67, Granite City.

Another Gillham reunion is scheduled for Sept. 12. It is to be held at Smith's Park in Springfield, Mo. For information, contact Larry Gillham, Route 2, Box 350, Fair Grove, Mo., 65648.

Alpha Eta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma International held a Golden Anniversary celebration May 23 at the Holiday Inn in Collinsville. A copy of the first initiation and installation of Alpha Eta Chapter on May 23, 1940, in Alton was included in the program booklet.

Following a brunch, birthday candles were lighted and a cake baked and decorated by member Barbara Neel was served.

President Linda McDonnell introduced guests including Barb Peterson, Lambda State president, and Delta Chapter members Ann Barnes, Joan Fletcher and Marjorie Hogan and Beta Eta Chapter members Mary Sue Harper, Valerie Stevens and Marguerite Conole. Linda's mother, Lee Krpyn, was also introduced.

Fifty-year highlights of Alpha Eta, prepared by B.J. Drayer, were read by Marjorie Barban. President McDonnell announced that over $4,000 was donated this year toward the establishment of a new scholarship.

Linda McDonnell and Lucille

Stevenson recognized three charter members: Vera E. Jones, Elsie J. Sloan and Etta V. Starkey. Vera Jones, the only charter member present, recalled highlights of her 50 years, including her term as president, and as the "Bus Lady". She challenged the members to live up to the "Golden and Growing" 50th Anniversary slogan.

The following officers were installed by Martha Moosmaw:

- President — Pat Moore
- First vice president — Marlene Barach
- Second vice president — Carol Beste
- Recording secretary — Marjorie Barban
- Treasurer — Patsy Goss
- Parliamentarian — Martha Moosmaw

Marjorie Barban, Linda McDonnell and Lucille Stevenson sang "Symbols of Delta Kappa Gamma" as members lighted candles. The meeting was closed with the singing of the "Delta Kappa Gamma Song".

Local members in attendance were: Liz Briggs, Elsie Mayhew, Linda McDonnell.

Dealers

know that, you've seen selling while we were watching. I guess this takes the air out of their balloon."

In 1990, Salmond, founder of the Eagle Park Action Committee, said he was sick of drug dealers taking over his neighborhood and put them on notice to "get out or else" by the end of the year.

A year later, with the "man in the red sweatshirt" operating in broad daylight, Salmond admitted his timetable may have been off, but insisted the enemy could be whipped.

"A lot of people here don't understand the problem; they just take it as a joke," Salmond said.

"But people end up dead. If using drugs don't kill them, selling them does, selling them to the wrong people or at the wrong time."

As pleaded as Salmond was at the arrest of Williams and Cooper, he said their business "has not missed a beat since their arrest."

He counted 16 more drug dealers he said were dealing out of Eagle Park during the week and several others he had seen come in from other communities.

But, Salmond said, "Maybe some of them will decide Eagle Park is too hot for them since the feds are here."

Although the arrests help, Salmond said, Eagle Park won't be drug free until parents start looking after and disciplining their children.

"Every other animal in the world protects its children and teaches them the things they need to know to survive," Salmond said.

"But we just turn them loose and let them go at it. Every other animal in the world knows what to do, but we don't? I can't believe that."

Fee

authority is proposing to allow residents whose checks come after the overdue date to sign an agreement that would add a tenth or twelfth of a month's rent to each month's rent for 10 or 12 months and, in that way, allow those residents to get a month ahead in their rent.

"No late fee would be charged for those residents who have signed an agreement," Tutka said.

Levis said residents who can't afford $20 for late payments cannot afford the extra rent, either. "As long as rent is paid once a month, it shouldn't make any difference when it's paid," she said. "And don't tell me 'HUD made you do it.' I called HUD and HUD didn't know anything about it."

Much of the crowd's hostility was due to a change on the computerized monthly rent statement. The rent statements mailed this month contain the statement "payment is due on the first of the month" in the place that formerly stated "payment is due the tenth of the month."

Tutka admitted that the change, although accurate, may have been a mistake in terms of clarity.

"I could have put rent is overdue after the tenth of the month," he said. "But, by your leases, rent has always been due the first of the month. We haven't changed that."

Tutka said the late fee is not intended to punish anyone and that most of the residents pay their rent on time now.

"For those of you who pay your rent on time each month, you will never hear about the late fee again," Tutka said.

"The late fee is intended to give those who habitually pay late an inducement to start paying on time."

At the suggestion of the Rev. Johnny Scott, president of the East St. Louis Chapter of the NAACP, and the Rev. John Henry Williams, a Venice alderman who represents the residents, the residents agreed to sit down and develop a counterproposal for the tenants' council to present to the housing authority.

Youngue votes without being present

By Christopher Knight
Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD — When Rep. Wyvetter Youngue is away, it seems that the state still has to pay.

Youngue, D-East St. Louis, received several hundred dollars in addition to her salary and may receive more per diem legislative pay even though she was 750 miles away in Baltimore.

State Comptroller Dawn Clark Natch and House Speaker Michael Madigan have said Youngue should repay the money.

Someone on the house floor voted Youngue present Tuesday and Wednesday and several other days this session, allowing her to collect more than $70 a day in addition to her $37,230 salary.

She also received $100 for in-state mileage even though she was out of state. And she billed taxpayers $688 for one of several flights to Baltimore, according to records in Natch's office.

A key from Youngue's voting record, which had been removed Thursday, preventing other lawmakers from voting for her or recording her as present.

Steve Brown, a member of Madigan's staff, said Friday he wasn't sure who removed the key or who had been voting for Youngue. He said the actions violated House Rule 61, but he didn't know whether they were enforced.

"Well, rules are rules," he said.

Youngue couldn't be reached for comment.

County building evacuated

An overcooked egg roll gave workers at the new Madison County Administration Building in Edwardsville an unexpected break Thursday afternoon.

Edwardsville Fire Chief Steve Deist said someone left an egg roll in a microwave oven too long and the smoke tripped the building's fire alarm.

Firefighters were called at 3:28 p.m. Most workers had evacuated the building by the time firefighters arrived, Deist said.

He said the only damage was to the egg roll.

drugs," Bennett said. "Some of the guys we know are dealing, if they run and drop the dogs, we can find them. We can also use the dog to track people and in executing search warrants. It'll be well worth it."

Police dogs don't come cheap. The total cost of the animal, including shipment, training, a kennel and the material to equip a police car, is about $7,500, Bennett said.

Then there will be the day-to-day costs of dog grooming and keeping the animal happy. Because the dog will be used to combat drug trafficking, assets obtained through the narcotics forfeiture law can be used to help offset expenses, Bennett said — "when they finally trickle down through the system."

Persons wishing to help defray the cost of the dog should contact the police department. Donations are welcome, the chief said.

The dog is due here Sept. 14. After it arrives, Patrolman Cantrell Patterson will attend a nine-week training course with the animal at the Illinois State Police Academy. The dog and Patterson will then hit the streets.

Perot backers begin new petition drive

By Mike Chambers
Staff writer

Amended petitions to get H. Ross Perot on the presidential ballot arrived in Madison County Friday and Perot county coordinator Lee Presser immediately began distributing the 1,000 petitions to supporters.

Presser has six weeks to try to get back the 8,000 signatures he had to throw away when the Perot camp made the decision to dump 100,000 signatures in Illinois because Perot's correct address was not on the petitions.

Four electors were also changed on the amended petitions.

"I'm not challenged to get 8,000 signatures again — I'm challenged to get as many as I can get," Presser said.

Presser, who describes himself as an independent who has supported candidates from both parties in the past, said he has seen both supporters and non-supporters of Perot sign his petitions.

"I had one guy sign a petition who said, 'I believe everybody has the right to be on the ballot, but I will wait to see what all the candidates say before I vote.'"

The Texas billionaire pledged to run in the November election against President George Bush, a Republican, and his challenger, Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton, a Democrat, if all 50 states put him on the ballot.

The amended petitions reflect an additional change of four Illinois electors who pledged their electorate votes for Perot at the Electoral College.

Locally, Edwardsville coordinator Don Schultz, who gathered an estimated 300-400 signatures himself via door-to-door soliciting, is another Perot supporter who isn't sweating the Aug. 7 deadline.

"It wouldn't be any problem for me to get what I had before. If I can get the people to man the two booths (set up in Edwardsville businesses), we can triple it," Schultz said.

This optimism is evident in St. Clair County as well, where Don Repovich, a professor of education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and the county Perot coordinator, called the setback a "test run."

Repovich said he collected more than 800 signatures in one weekend in a booth near a Cahokia video store.

"What we have here is a grass roots thing, and our wheels are really spinning," Repovich said. "To get 25,000 signatures (statewide) will be like a drop in the bucket."

"I want to tell you, the people are committed to this."

TV/Radio review:

Humor makes Boatmen's commercials memorable

I have often been told that humorous advertising may be entertaining, but it isn't very effective. Don't try telling that to Larry Bayliss, senior vice president for marketing, advertising, and public relations for Boatmen's Bank. He won't buy it.

Bayliss said that the bank's current advertising campaign on radio and television is extremely effective, and he, apparently, has the data to prove it.

You've seen and heard the commercials. Actually, if you have listened to radio at all in St. Louis over the last couple of years you could not have missed the commercials. Built around a spokesman for the bank called "Dave," played by actor Tom Sharp, they involve conversations with a wide assortment of characters, most of whom are about two bricks short of a load.

There is the guy who is obsessed with time—but forgot his watch; the guy who does the want convenience in his banking because he would rather ride around the city, "smell the roses" and see the sights; and the guy who hasn't slept for years who has formed a relationship with a "computer voice" at Boatmen's. You remember them.

And there are the television commercials which consist largely of Dave talking about the wonders of the bank and meeting more weird characters as he goes. There are, no doubt, people who don't see the humor in the commercials—what the heck, some people don't think the state Legislature is funny, but, obviously, they are intended to appeal to the sense of humor as well as convince you to bank at Boatmen's.

Bayliss said the philosophy is to "mix humor with the message so it's not boring." He maintains that humor in commercials means "you can enjoy getting the message. (The commercials) are something you want to hear rather than something you want to turn off either physically or mentally."

Bayliss also said that he has never seen a textbook which actually challenged humor as part of advertising. But he admitted that there is a danger in using humor "if it's not funny when you are trying to be funny."

Well, yeah, that is a problem. Because then the advertiser looks stupid, or incompetent, or both.

Since those are not images which most banks aspire to, did Bayliss have a problem accepting the concept of humorous commercials for Boatmen's? He said that the bank's advertising agency TBWA, proposed five different approaches to meet Boatmen's goals more than two years ago. One of the approaches was similar to the campaign featuring Dave.

Bayliss said he thought from the beginning that the approach would work, and, after some development, the campaign was launched on the public in June 1990.

He said that there have been "hundreds" of radio commercials and more than 20 television versions. "We really believe that if you bring something good to the marketplace, it will last," he said.

Sharp has become a very busy

voice, and not only as "Dave." You've heard him in St. Louis touting Volkswagen, Nissan, Craftsman, and other products. Does he run the danger of overexposure, or confusing the public? Bayliss said he doesn't think so. He said, rather, since Boatmen's was first identified with the actor, when the public hears that familiar voice, the listener is likely to think "Boatmen's," no matter what the commercial is about.

Bayliss said that a couple of humorous campaigns which have received a bad rap from advertising history—the Volkswagen commercials of the '60s and the "Pop! Pop! Fizz! Fizz!" of Alka-Seltzer—may have actually been the victims of something other than their own humor. In each case, the commercials were critically acclaimed, but according to experts in the advertising field, they failed to sell the product. Bayliss suggests that some experts now feel the products were primarily the victims of competition—not poor advertising.

Anyway, he foresees no early changes in the Boatmen's approach as long as his surveys continue to support the effectiveness of the campaign.

Bayliss said radio allows for a great deal of repetition and constant exposure for the bank. Television provides another dimension. "We needed TV to help set the stage for radio."

Ian MacBryde is an independent video producer and former television executive.

The Pontoon Beach Lions Club recently held its annual installation of officers and community awards dinner. President Randy Werner called the meeting to order at 7 p.m. and had Immediate Past President Jim Graham lead in the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

While everyone was still standing, Chaplain Lion Nelson King gave the invocation. Those in attendance seated at the head table were Lions District Governor Marlin Himelick and his wife Sue, Executive Secretary-Treasurer Walter Conklin and his wife Ada, President Randy Werner and his wife Paula, and President-Elect Bob Daugherty and his wife Dot. Some special guests in the audience who were recognized were Lions Governor-Elect Erwin Quade Jr. of the Wood River Lions Club; Lions Past District Governor and now Lion Cabinet Secretary-Treasurer Walter Conklin; and his wife Betty of the Camp Point Lions Club; Lions Past District Governor Frank Cramer and his wife Kelly of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club; Lions Region Chairman Mike Starko of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club; Lioness Betty Johnson and her husband Floyd of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club.

Medal of Valor Award was given to Dennis R. Burns of Delta Systems, for his unselfish attention given toward Lioness Ada Conklin when she began choking and Dennis quickly came to her aid. Two scholarships were given, one to Christy ViVod, and one to Dale Newberry. Donations were given to Pontoon Beach Police Department, with Lion-Chet Ballew accepting, and Illinois School for the Deaf, with Lions Governor Marlin Himelick accepting.

Total donations toward sight and hearing impaired and in the community will exceed $20,000. President Randy Werner then presented awards to club members for their support during their year and named Lion Jug Yeager Pontoon Beach Lion of the Year.

Eagles Auxiliary initiates eight

Newly elected Eagles Auxiliary 1126 president Joanna Spencer held her first meeting of the 1992-93 year with an initiation of eight new candidates: Evelyn Miles, Mary Venosky, Mary Clavin, Marcia Jones, Sheila MacLaughlin, Birdie Meyenburg, Connie Kipp and Betty McGinness.

Officers conducting the initiation were: president Joanna Spencer; junior past president Del Deloney; vice president Barbara Modrusic; chaplain Ann Pates, and conductor Vera Johnson.

Spencer honored all her new officers and chairmen and had them escorted to the altar where she presented each of them with an Eagle designating their office or chairmanship.

Plans were discussed for the July 4 celebration to be held at Wilson Park. The auxiliary will have a refreshment booth July 4, and requested volunteers to man the booth. Proceeds will go to the social fund.

Catch 22

Triplets suffer first District defeat in nearly a year; Cahokia wins, 5-1

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

It had to happen sooner or later. The Triplets saw a 23-game winning streak end Thursday with a 5-1 loss in Cahokia. The superb pitching of Cole Proffler turned the trick.

The righthander struck out seven and scattered two hits as Post 784 (6-3 in district play, 9-6 overall) gave Post 113 its first loss to a District 22 opponent in almost a full calendar year. The Triplets last league loss was a 6-3 decision to Belleville on June 27, 1991.

Josh Markert's two-run homer highlighted a four-run fifth inning that gave Ben Hicks his first loss of 1992. The Granite City righthander was 6-0 in high school and is now 3-1 in Legion.

The Triplets took an 8-1 league record (13-3 overall) into Collinsville on Saturday.

Chuckie Roy's solo blast off Hicks in the fourth erased a 1-0 lead.

"We got just what we deserved," said manager Ralph Burnett. "Cahokia beat us in every phase of the game. Our approach was extremely poor. Our players felt this team was going to roll dead. Were they ever surprised?"

Granite City scored its only run in the second inning. Bobby Wilson singled, moved to second on an error, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Chris Hildreth's bloop single to right. That was it offensively. Proffler retired 12 in a row before yielding a one-out walk to Wilson in the seventh. The Triplets hit into two double plays and lost another runner.

"We're just not swinging the bats," Burnett said. "We're not aggressive at the plate, and we're taking too many fastballs."

"I just moved my fastball around," said Proffler (4-2). "I brought it inside and then moved it outside. They really didn't make solid contact against me all night. That's a good team we beat. I'd have to call this the biggest win of the season so far."

The victory, however, didn't surprise Cahokia manager Don Mantz.

"I knew we could do it," he said. "Our record isn't a true indication of just how strong this team really is."

"We have a tendency to let up when we build a lead. That wasn't the case tonight. We played every out of every inning. Doing that on a consistent basis will make us tough to beat."

Burnett took notice, but he'd like another crack at Cahokia. "They have a well-coached ball club," he said. "But I'd like to play them again. The only way that'll happen is if we meet them in the district championship. But Cahokia has the weapons to get there. They swing the bat like men. There aren't any visible weaknesses on that club. They gave us a wakeup call. I didn't expect to get through this district undefeated. This loss will kill our complacency and bring us back to reality."

Furmanek urges patience for young Paddlers squad

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

"Patience is the best remedy. That's the philosophy Celeste Furmanek is taking this season with the Paddlers swimming team. Furmanek showed a great deal of patience in Tuesday's SWISA season opener in Godfrey. Summer Sport captured the meet 400-250, snapping a 20-year drought against Paddlers. But Furmanek saw a few bright spots in the loss.

"The kids didn't quit," she said. "I admire them for that. They're a determined group. But unlike the rest of the teams in our conference, the kids don't swim year-round. You can't get in shape for your first meet with only two weeks of practice."

Paddlers has the whole month of July to get ready for the SWISA finals.

"Our kids should be in pretty good shape by that time," she said. "Then we can work on the little things the kids have to learn. Swimming is so scientific that it's almost impossible teaching them everything in such a short season. But our kids are fast learners."

Promoting a positive attitude is the key.

"You have to make this fun for the kids," Furmanek said. "Swimming puts a lot of demands on your body. Most of these kids aren't used to the strenuous workouts. We lost a few kids at the beginning of the season because they just couldn't take it."

Paddlers is also a little lean on experience. Of the 90 members, a third of them are newcomers. "Nerves played a huge role in our opening meet," Furmanek said. "The kids were more concerned about what was going to happen instead of concentrating on what they were going to do. But that's normal. It's just a matter of doing things by instinct. It takes time."

Nemeth's bat leads Junior Triplets to 12-2 win

Second baseman Brian Kohler and right fielder David Fuhrman of the Junior Triplets go for a pop fly in short right field. Kohler eventually made the catch despite a collision.

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

When he was called up to the Junior Triplets this week, catcher Scott Nemeth said he was a little surprised.

Now it's manager Doug Winfield who is surprised at the relative ease with which Nemeth had made the switch from the Elks '77 team up to Junior Legion. Nemeth was 2 for 3 in his first game Wednesday. But that was just a preview of his outburst Friday.

Nemeth went 3 for 3 — all singles — with a sacrifice fly and four RBIs to lead Granite City to a 12-2 five-inning win over Bethalto at Varsity Field. He also stole a base and played a strong game defensively as the Junior Triplets improved to 9-6 (9-5 in league play).

"Our Elks team is good, but the competition isn't like it is here," said Nemeth. "Jerry McKeehan (Elks coach) helped me a lot both offensively and with my defense. I'm just trying to do the best I can." Friday was only the second game for Nemeth and Jason Talley after coming from the Elks. "I knew they would make a difference, but I didn't think it would be this quick," said Winfield. "Some of the other guys will start working harder to protect their playing time."

Brian Pierce (2-1) struck out five and gave up five hits to get the win. He allowed two unearned runs as the defense stumbled a little in the fifth. He pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the third and didn't have much trouble the rest of the way. "It's all confidence with Brian," said Winfield. "He's trying to find what he's comfortable with. If he keeps pitching like this he'll be fine."

Bethalto starter Kelly Feites gave up more hits in 2½ innings (five) than Pierce did the whole game. Feites was roughed up for seven runs. Although the Junior Triplets had nine hits, only Jeff Ridenour's double went for extra bases.

An error, Brian Kohler's bunt hit and a throwing error put Granite City ahead in the second. Nemeth's sacrifice fly made it 2-0 and Jason Black scored on Talley's single. It became 7-0 in the third.

Ridenour doubled in a run and scored on Andy Roe's single. Nemeth drove in another run with a hit, then Kohler and Nemeth joined in a double steal for the seventh run. The Junior Triplets scored two unearned runs in the fourth, then got three in the fifth for the 10-run rule. Craig Harrison singled in two runs to make it 11-2 and, fittingly, Nemeth ended it with a two-out RBI single.

After losing four in a row, the Junior Triplets have bounced back with two 10-run wins.

"Everybody got a chance to play and they all were able to hit," said Winfield. "We moved some kids around and some were playing out of position, which showed at times."

Winfield hopes his team can turn its game up a notch before next weekend's tournament in Ellisville, Mo. They are guaranteed at least four games in the round-robin format.

"I hope we can get on a roll before the Fourth of July," he said. "We're going to have to get some strong pitching in that tournament. With Scott and Jason up, that gives us eight pitchers and we'll probably need all of them."

Hall of Fame open holiday weekend

The Granite City Sports Hall of Fame building will be open to the public on the Fourth of July weekend. Hours are 4-7 p.m. Friday (July 3), and 2-7 p.m. on July 4.

"We are moving memorabilia into the building as quickly as possible," said Les Thompson, chairman of the Hall of Fame committee. "We've recently added the New York Yankee uniform of John 'Champ' Summers and the San Francisco Giant uniform of Francis 'Salty' Parker. We put on display the University of Missouri uniform jersey of All-American lineman Jon Garpoff as well as his Mizou sweater and warmup jacket. We've also added the bowling ball and bowling shirt of championship bowler Emile 'Ace' DeMotte. New pictures have also been hung of Granite City teams as well as an interesting shot of rookie Boston Brave catcher John Tonofoff handling a foul pop-up hit by Babe Ruth as the 'Sultan of Swat' looks on.

Area residents are invited to donate or loan pertinent sports memorabilia of inductees to the Hall for display. Additional information on displays may be obtained by calling Thompson at 876-7636.

Relative of local family is honored

Stephen Reader of Tooele, Utah, the grandson and nephew of Granite City residents, received a top athletic award from his school for 1991-92.

Reader, an eighth grader, won the Leigh Pratt award as the top eighth grade male student-athlete at Tooele Junior High School. He is the grandson of Alice Bauza of Granite City, and the nephew of Jim, Larry and Patty Reader of Granite City, as well as Janet Reader Ebersoldt of Collinsville.

Stephen Reader

Stephen Reader participated in 12 intramural sports and won seven trophies. His teams won the soccer, two-on-two basketball, co-ed volleyball, three-point shooting and the 115-pound wrestling title. He also participated in one-on-one, three-on-three, five-on-five basketball, speed ball, tennis, softball and flag football.

"He is definitely one of the most outstanding young men I've ever been associated with," said school intramural director Roger Cowan Jr. "The difference between Stephen and every one else was the way he handled himself on and off the court."

Stephen's parents are Bill and Kathy Reader.

BETTY CLEMENTS and BONNIE LEIBOLD

Bonnie has been bowling for 10 years and is kidded about her ability to pick up the wierdest splits. Betty has bowled for 34 years, carries a 165 average, has several 600 series but says the highlight occurs when she "beats her husband, which doesn't happen to often."
